We hear that the appointment of William Henry Lyttleton, Eſq; ambaſſador to the court of Liſbon, gives great ſatisfaction to the Gentlemen concerned in the Portugal trade, on account of his well known abilities and ſpirit; being convinced that he will ſupport the intereſts and dignity of the Britiſh nation to the utmoſt of his power.

Extract of a letter from Calais, a ſuburb of Conſtantinople, dated Auguſt 16, 1766.

"We have been a good deal diverted in this part of the world, with the accounts of the progreſs of Prince Heraclius of Georgia, and of the great advantages he, of late, had obtained over the Ottoman forces. To credit them, we would be induced to believe, that the Turkiſh power had received a fatal blow, and that the Georgians were on their way to ſeat themſelves in the imperial city of Conſtantinople. To us, that know the faſt, nothing can appear more ridiculous. The real faſt is this, Prince Heraclius is chief of one of the tribes in the hilly country of Georgia, which acknowledges the Porte as their ſovereign, and to whom they pay a tribute. This tribute was paid in ſlaves; a certain number of young perſons, of both ſexes, being annually ſent to Conſtantinople for that purpoſe. The exactors of this tribute having wantonly abuſed their power, by demanding the daughter of a man of high diſtinction in the country, occaſioned at firſt that commotion, which has ſince made ſome noiſe. Prince Heraclius endeavoured to appeaſe the commotions, by offering an annual tribute in money in lieu of the other; but this was refuſed on the part of the Turk, and a body of troops was diſpatched to enforce the payment of the tribute. Prince Heraclius had the gallantry to oppoſe, and the good fortune to repel them. The natural ſtrength of the country has as yet preſerved him from the chaſtiſement he has reaſon to expect; to prevent which, he is now fortifying and ſecuring himſelf by raiſing troops, by alliances with the neighbouring tribes, and by every method in his power."

A letter from a Gentleman at Berlin, to his Friend in London, dated October 7.

"I do not remember to have ſeen mentioned in any of the publick prints, the true cauſe of a great General's (Prince Ferdinand) having quitted the Pruſſian ſervice, which was briefly this: His Majeſty had iſſued an order of leave for a certain number of his ſoldiers to aſſiſt the farmers, &c. in getting in their harveſt; for which, as they were to be ſatisfied by their employers, their military pay was ordered to go into the publick treaſury, and not into the pockets of the officers, as had been uſual heretofore in ſuch caſes. The officers thinking this a hardſhip, particularly ſo ſoon after their having been at ſome extraordinary expences, as well as having borne the extraordinary fatigues of the late war, applied to the great General to repreſent their caſe to his Majeſty, and to intercede in their behalf, which he kindly undertook; but his application was treated in ſuch a manner as greatly diſguſted him and occaſioned his reſigning all his military employments. His Majeſty, it ſeems, thought it an improper requeſt to him, to revoke or alter an ordinance which he had iſſued, though ſolicited in the moſt cautious, and reſpectful manner."

The Right Hon. Charles Townſend's Miniſterial character ſeems to be hourly riſing in the eſtimation of the publick, and it is difficult to determine, whether his popularity is moſt promoted by the material ſhare he had in the late, timely, and generally applauded embargo, or by the ſingularly polite reception he gives to all who addreſs him (ſtrangers or otherwiſe) on matters relative to the ſtate.

A letter from Tarbury in Glouceſterſhire, dated October 24, ſays, "The populace in theſe parts are very troubleſome, and ſuch mobbings were never known; all trade is at a ſtand, many exceſſes committed by them, and many hundred families ſtarving in the bottoms round us, for want of bread; all other kinds of proviſions are as dear as ever, and unleſs ſome immediate elleviation to their diſtreſſes is procured, the conſequence may be fatal to this part of the country."

December 8. We hear that the bill for granting compensation to the sufferers, and of indemnity, &c. is passed the three branches of the legislature.——The house it is said passed resolutions to the following effect, previous to finding up the bill. That the grant was made in loyal and grateful regard to his Majesty's mild and gracious recommendation, for the sake of internal peace and good order, but without any regard to the Governor's interpretation, and under a full persuasion the sufferers had no just claim or demand of right against the province; and that those of them who applied home, instead of first applying here, are very reprehensible. That the Resolves of Assembly here last year could not be the occasion of riots two months preceeding.

December 15. Last Tuesday his Excellency the Governour was pleased to prorogue the Great and General Court of this Province to Wednesday the 21st of January next, after having made the following Speech to both Houses of Assembly, viz.

Mr. Timothy Baldwin, of Amity, a parish in New-Haven, departed this life last Tuesday. For about a year past he was troubled with a small obstruction in discharging his urine, but not so as to prevent him doing his common business. Twenty-two days before his death he rode into town about seven miles; was instantly taken with a violent pain in the lower part of the abdomen, with a strong inclination to discharge his urine. He supposed it to be a cholic; but never discharged a drop until the day before his death, only by the use of the catheter, and nothing but blood. His bladder was taken out by Dr. Leverett Hubbard, in which he found a stone as large as a goose-egg, by the Sphincter Vesicæ or muscle that goes around its neck, and a putrid ulcer, which contained about ten ounces. The bladder and what it contained weighed four pounds.

We are credibly informed, that several debtors lately confined in goal in this city, are discharged by the charitable benevolence of the Lady Moore.--A second instance of that lady's good disposition, since her arrival here, in the course of twelve months; and sets an example worthy imitation, especially as it has a direct tendancy to the preservation of their poor distressed wives and children, by letting them have the assistance of their husbands labour, for a support the approaching winter.

December 4. From all quarters every vessel that arrives bring fresh accounts of shipwrecks and distresses both by sea and land, occasioned by the late terrible and uncommonly frequent storms and tempests, with which, especially the West-India seas and islands have been visited.

December 8. On the proper application, (and conformable to orders) made by Major Thomas James, who sustained a loss on the first of November, 1765, in this city;---his case has been considered by the Honourable House of Representatives now sitting; and they have been pleased to grant him the amount of his account sworn to, of the sum of £. 1765 15 7 halfpenny, for which that Gentleman gave the house his hearty thanks, and assured he would communicate their generosity, by the first opportunity to his Majesty's Ministers of State.

Other losses that happened on the same day and year, are under consideration.

Paragraph of a letter from Quebec, Nov. 8, says, "The famous rum duties claimed by the King, as heir at law, and by conquest to the French King, was yesterday, by our new judge, &c. special jury, given against the crown; the King's attorney talks of appealing, but we mean to remonstrate to his Majesty against the illegality of taxing us against our consent; and plead his own proclamation in our behalf, where he promised the Canadians, as well as English, the same rights and privileges as his natural born subjects. We do not refuse the necessary aids for the support of government in this province, but claim the right to raise them ourselves, and hope daily to learn this has been granted us, in giving us, as well as the other colonies, an assembly, which we have some time since applied for.

By letters from Africa, via Dominica, we learn, that the soldiers at James's fort, on that coast, had formed a design in August last of seizing the fort, and murdering the officers, and other residents there; but the horrible conspiracy was discovered by a soldier to the commanding officer, the night before it was to have been put in execution, who immediately put the ringleaders in irons, and sent them by Commodore O'Hara to Senegal, to take their trials; that Governor M'Pherson died in August; that two French sloops were lying within gun shot of James's fort, trading for slaves, without the least interruption, though detrimental to the English; that the Commandant of James's fort receives, for the benefit of Governor O'Hara, for the clearance of vessels, as follows, viz. for a ship, £. 11 11 0 sterling; for other square-rigged vessels, £. 10 10 0; and for a sloop or schooner, £. 5 0 0.

PHILADELPAIA, November 27.

By Captain Foster, from the Grenades, we are informed, that on the 21st ult. about 4 o'clock in the morning, they had a smart shock of an earthquake there, which lasted about three minutes; that at Bosseterre the inhabitants were greatly alarmed, and ran out of their houses, expecting every moment to be buried in their ruins, but providentially they received no damage in the town; that at a Gentleman's plantation about six miles from thence, the dwelling-house, sugar-house, and all the out-houses were entirely thrown down, but he did not hear of any lives being lost; and that the same was very sensibly felt on board the shipping in the harbour.

John Penn, Esq; attended by his council, the mayor, recorder, and commonalty of this city, and preceded by the sheriff and his officers, went in procession to the court-house, where a new commission, revoking the time for his command of the province of Pennsylvania, and the counties of New-Castle, Kent, and Sussex, on Delaware, were read in the presence of a concourse of people.*

DECEMBER 18.

Extract of a Letter from London, September 27, 1766.

"Here is a dead calm of politicks at present, the public being tired with the invectives against Lord Chatham, and no fresh game started for the political Beagles to hunt down; and probably none will start till the meeting of parliament, which, it is said, will certainly be on the eleventh of November.

WILLIAMSBURGH, (in Virginia) November 21.

On Wednesday last it was determined in the Honourable the House of Burgesses, by a great majority, that the offices of Speaker and treasurer shall be no more united in one person.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on Waccamaw Neck, a negro fellow named SAMPSON, of a black complexion, 5 feet 11 inches high, with a large scar on the middle part of his head, and is about 25 years old: He has been seen near Monck's Corner, in the parish of St. John, Berkley county, and afterwards taken at the Congarees, from whence he made his escape, and is supposed to have returned to the parish aforesaid, where he is well known, and imagined to be harboured at Mr. JAMES KEITH's plantation, near Monck's Corner.——I will pay TWENTY POUNDS to any person that will deliver him to Mr. JOHN DAWSON, merchant, in Charles-Town, or to the Warden of the Work-house; and FIFTY POUNDS to any person that will prove his being harboured by a white person, and TWENTY POUNDS, if by a negro, to be paid on conviction of the offender. SAMUEL DWIGHT.

HAWES, and Comp.

COACH-MAKERS.

RETURN their most hearty and sincere thanks to the GENTLEMEN and LADIES of this province, for the favours they have been pleased to confer on them; and flatter themselves with a continuance of their custom, if they shall appear to have merited the encouragement that has been given them.

THEY can now ADVERTISE THE PUBLIC, That they have brought ALL BRANCHES of the COACH-MAKING BUSINESS to such perfection, as not to be exceeded in quality of the materials, goodness of the work, or neatness, by any importation; so that they can make and finish, without any assistance, out of their own shop, all sorts of COACHES, CHARIOTS, PHÆTONS, POST-CHAISES, LANDAUS, CURRICLES, SEDANS, SLEIGHS, &c. in the most COMPLEAT and ELEGANT manner, and afford them at MORE REASONABLE rates than they can be imported.

Whether the public may think them worthy, or not, of particular encouragement, for being the FIRST who have brought those branches of business to such perfection in this province, (to attain which they have been at no inconsiderable expence in procuring men and materials) yet they hope, their PROPOSALS will have some weight, in giving them opportunities to prove what they have offered to undertake, which are, TO EXECUTE EQUAL TO ANY PATTERN FROM ENGLAND, DRAUGHT OR ORDER THAT SHALL BE GIVEN THEM, or they will not desire those who bespeak the work to take it when done.

SAID HAWES, and Company,

Have to dispose of on the most reasonable Terms,
